Mommy Seals

Few Seals Make It Through

"The elite force's selection course is so punishing that few make it through"

New York Times - Dave Philipps - Aug. 30th, 2022

See titles 3 & 4 & the end before you contemplate killing someone

Few Mommies Fail to Make It

It was recently announced, from Coronado, CA that a Navy SEAL died during final training, after enduring 26 weeks of incredible SQT hardships, along with dozens of other SEAL students.

Def pick'in Mommies to win any time

Mommies vs Pro's

Pro's are Wussies By Comparison

It is always a sad and tragic occasion when someone so young dies, especially for their Country.

It's sadder when 660 Mommies/year die in childbirth.

Mommies 1st always, tougher, no doubt, no competition.

Babies vs Instructors

Instructors are bad, mean, sadistic, are all of the clichés seen in countless movies and written up in countless books. 26 weeks...horrible.

Babies are evil from 9 months before birth until 5 years old when they are shipped off to their first day of school.

260 sleepless weeks, 24/7. Big difference.

Babies Make Instructors Cry

With that in mind, and all due respect to not only the Seals, but also to all of the sworn and unsworn public servants who individually give it everything they got to prove themselves capable of taking on the challenging work of a fire fighter, military fighter, emergency responder, officer of the law...

Pro's

Including all instructors and sergeants etc. under one label is impossible, though their motivation is the same – turn out a reliable next generation.

Herein they are Professionals and Professors with attitude, they are the Pro's. They are thankless.

Each should be respected and supported and feared and pitied. Their jobs are impossible.

Everyone's Life Cycle

Instructors:Pro's:: Babies:Mommies

- They are born
- They are raised
- They are educated
 - ✓ some better than others
- 0 years old Babies make no choices
 - ✓ Choices are made for them
- 10 years old Mommies can become Mommies
 - ✓ through ignorance or rape
- 18 years old all may reasonably serve
 - ✓ Legally Pro's cannot server earlier
- 25 years old, they definitely know better
 - ✓ though Pro's may be too old to start
- 45 years old, ½ way through life
 - ✓ Pro's are past their prime
- 50 years old
 - ✓ Pro's are thinking about retirement
- Both "served" by choice or coercion
 - ✓ Pro's due to hardship or crimes
 - or cultural pressure
 - ✓ Mommies due to harm done to them
 - or cultural pressure

Pro's back down in the face of Mommy's rath

Professionals vs Mommies

In the Blue trunks [its 1953] we have the Pro, a lean, mean, fighting machine ! (John Candy – 2017)

In the Pink trunks [and a sports-bra] we have the Mommy, not so lean, far more mean, and willing to negotiate.

The odd's makers are split, though the inside money placed their bets and went home to watch a movie.

Seems that the Mommies are their favorite, or their wives (Mommies too) told them to be home by 9pm or else.

Mommy SEALs are the toughest of them all

Instructors and Pro's have no claim.

Babies put Mommies through hell for weeks and weeks.

Every year the United State's elected officials give Billion Dollar raises to the military

...and almost always Million Dollar take-backs from Mommies.

How Fair is that?
